November 22, 2024, The Globe and Mail posted an article, reproduced below, entitled

Navigating ‘The Valley of Death’ by Niall McGee:

Why Canada’s emerging critical mineral miners are struggling to survive and what can be done about it.

Struggling to survive ‘the valley of death,’ some of Canada’s emerging critical mineral miners are now fleeing overseas

Raising capital in the country’s junior mining sector has been getting progressively harder over the past decade, but Ottawa’s recent limits on Chinese state-sponsored funds have made the job even more difficult
